

CHAPTER VII.

(1) CLOTHING AND LIVERIES TO PEONS AND PETTY OFFICERS OF GOVERNMENT.

139. Function of the stationery office.—Cotton and woollen cloth and all accessories for the uniforms of peons and petty officers in the several departments of Government of the Province of Bombay are stocked and supplied by the Superintendent, Government Printing and Stationery, Bombay, on a uniform system, in accordance with the orders issued by Government (Government Resolution, Finance Department, No. 393, dated 9th September 1930).

140. Capitation grants.—Certain officers of Government have been provided with contingent grants for the supply of uniforms to the inferior staff of their offices, other than peons and petty officers, and until and unless such grants are surrendered and necessary sanction is obtained from Government, no supplies of any kind on such account shall be made by the stationery office.

141. Indents and supplies.—Supplies of clothing shall be made the stationery office strictly in accordance with the rules and orders issued by Government from time to time and reproduced below. As the supplies are not annual, the indent forms required for submitting an indent should be obtained from the stationery office when required. The indent form No. 6 on the Appendix XII will be supplied in duplicate. One form should be returned to the Stationery Office duly filled in and the other kept in the office as an office copy. Indents for peons' clothing should be prepared by the indenting officers and forwarded so as to reach the Stationery Office one month before the supply of the uniforms becomes due.

142. Officers of Government in the Bombay Province who are supplied with peons' clothing free of charge are noted in the Appendix III with the letter "C" marked against them.

143. Discontinuance of the submission of clothing indents through the Accountant General, Bombay.—Previously all indents for clothing and table cloth were submitted to the stationery office through the Accountant General, Bombay. This practice was discontinued (vide orders issued in Government Resolution, Finance Department, No. 393, dated 9th March 1931); and indents are now received by the stationery office direct from the indenting officers. Detailed information regarding the strength of the inferior servants in each office should be shown in the indent in the column provided. This information shall be checked by the stationery office on receipt of the indent with the details recorded in his office register, disallowing or holding under suspension such supplies as shall not be admissible.

Whenever new posts of inferior servants are created or existing ones abolished, Government in the administrative department concerned shall supply the Superintendent, Government Printing and Stationery, Bombay, with copies of such orders to enable the stationery office to keep the record of inferior establishments up-to-date (Government Resolution, Financial Department, No. 393, dated 9th March 1931).

144. How to prepare indents.—Columns are provided in the indent form for clothing with the scale of supply admissible noted against each item and the indenting officers shall see that all details are correctly filled in before an indent is prepared and forwarded to the stationery office for compliance. Incomplete indents shall necessitate their return to the indenting officers resulting in delays in the supply.

145. Method of supply.—Cotton drill cloth for making white suits is supplied by the stationery office every two years and warm cloth for making woollen coats with lining cloth, red braid for edging, gold lace, belt, pagrees, etc., are supplied every four years. With a view to economy and especially to suit the climatic conditions of the different districts in the Province, the system of the supply of cotton and warm clothing at an alternate period was approved by Government and was sanctioned permanently, the savings effected on the cost of woollen clothing being utilized to meet the cost of cotton clothing (Government Resolution, Financial Department, No. 1171, dated 17th February 1925).

146. Supply of belts.—Shoulder belts for use by peons are made of a single layer of scarlet (red) woollen cloth and this innovation has resulted in some economy in the expenditure as the cost incurred on cloth is reduced, (Government Resolution, Financial Department, No. 461, dated 26th July 1921).

147. Red braid for edging warm coats.—A small piece of scarlet cloth (about 9 inches in breadth and 54" in length) was previously supplied for edging each woollen coat. A cheaper substitute in the form of red braid was tried by the Superintendent, Government Printing and Stationery, and it was considered quite suitable for the purpose for which it was intended. The introduction of this item was permanently sanctioned by Government (Government Resolution, Financial Department, No. 5688, dated 30th September 1927) and has resulted in some saving to Government.

148. Purchase of Indian-made cloth.—With a view to encourage Indian industries, in accordance with the policy of Government, it was decided that all clothing materials required for making uniforms of the inferior servants of Government or cloth required for covering tables, etc., should, as far as possible, be of Indian manufacture. Purchase of cloth of non-Indian manufacture, in special circumstances, would necessarily need the sanction of Government (Government Resolution, General Department, No. 5205-15687, dated 17th December 1926).

149. Varieties of cloth and other materials stocked by the stationery office.—For the purpose of making uniforms of peons and petty officers, the following materials are stocked by the stationery office and supplied on indents:—

- (1) White drill, 27" wide.
- (2) Blue superfine woollen cloth, 54" wide.
- (3) Blue coarse woollen cloth, 54" wide.
- (4) Scarlet superfine woollen cloth, 54" wide.
- (5) Lining cloth, cotton 27" wide, for woollen coats.
- (6) Red braid, woollen, for edging woollen coats.
- (7) Gold lace, 1" wide, for chopdars' coats.
- (8) Gold lace, $\frac{3}{4}$ " wide, for havildars' coats.
- (9) Gold lace, $\frac{1}{2}$ " wide, for naiks' coats.
- (10) Belts, Red, woollen, single layer, for peons.
- (11) Belts, red, woollen, double layer, for amaldars.
- (12) Kamarband (3 yards of Turkey red cloth).
- (13) Pagrees, red, inferior, for peons.
- (14) Pagrees, red, superior, for amaldars.
- (15) Chevron, red, woollen (with 2 stripes) for naiks.
- (16) Chevron, red, woollen (with 3 stripes) for havildars.
- (17) Green woollen cloth, 54" wide for covering tables.

150. Supply of pagrees to inferior servants for use on ordinary and ceremonial occasions.—Pagrees are supplied to the inferior servants every four years in accordance with rule 87 of the Manual of Contingent Expenditure. Before this "duty" period of four years expires, they become soiled by constant use and unsuitable for use for ceremonial occasions. Government have therefore decided that instead of reducing this duty period, the pagrees should be washed and redyed once every year at a cost not exceeding one rupee annually in respect of each pagree. These charges should be paid every year to the inferior servants and debited to the contingent grants of the offices concerned.

Government have also decided that spare pagrees should be supplied to offices which need them for the use of such inferior servants only as have to attend on their officers on ceremonial occasions. As only one inferior servant will generally attend on an officer on each ceremonial occasion, one pagree of the superior quality costing about Rs. 4-8-0 each should be obtained from the stationery office, Bombay, and deposited in the office concerned for use on ceremonial occasions, and replaced only when they are converted into pagrees for ordinary use. (Political and Services Department, Resolution No. 1740/34, dated 5th January 1942).

151. Scale of supply.—With the exception of special scales sanctioned by Government for certain inferior servants specified in a separate paragraph below, the cloth is supplied on a uniform scale to all indenting officers and supplies are made in accordance with the scales noted as under :—

152. Supply of cloth on and above the prescribed scale.—The scale of two years of blue woollen cloth is based on the maximum measurements noted below and up to which two yards of cloth, 54" wide would be quite sufficient for a coat :—

159. Disposal of old gold lace.—The used gold lace should be returned to the stationery office for disposal when fresh clothing is supplied.

160. Supply of clothing to temporary peons.—The Superintendent, Government Printing and Stationery, Bombay, shall admit indents for clothing for temporary peons on certificates from the indenting officers that their entertainment is sanctioned for a period of not less than two years, provided that the permanent peons attached to the establishment to which the temporary peons belong, are entitled to clothing at Government expense.

161. Supply of clothing to temporary peons employed for less than two years.—Clothing cannot be supplied to temporary peons unless there is a prospect of the continuance of their temporary appointment for at least two years, in which case sanction of Government may be obtained.

162. Peons in temporary employment for two years.—Cotton clothing is supplied by the stationery office every two years and the temporary peons entertained by officers for this period shall be entitled only to cotton clothing, i.e. 13 yards of Drill sufficient to make 2 white suits.

. 163. Peons in temporary employment for four years and over.—Warm woollen cloth is supplied by the stationery office every four years and the temporary peons entertained for such a period can be supplied with warm clothing on the uniform scale on receipt of the necessary sanction of Government.

164. Preservation of clothing.—In the case of warm and cotton clothing supplied to peons and petty officers of Government, the suits shall be returned to the office or stores every day where they shall be kept in boxes or cup-boards, precautions being taken to prevent damage by insects or moths. The clothes shall be washed and kept clean, repaired when necessary, and shall be frequently aired by the peons and petty officers concerned.

165. Clothing while in use shall be a Government property.—Clothes supplied under the above rules shall invariably remain the property of Government while in use. When renewed, the old clothes shall be the private property of the servants to be dealt with as they think fit.

The clothing supplied to any servant who dies, resigns or is dismissed, while it is in use, shall be returned to the office concerned for custody or disposal.

166. Supply of clothing to inferior servants such as farashis, hamals, chowkidars, tapalis, etc.—Paragraph 87 of the Manual of Contingent Expenditure reads as under :—“ The following rules are laid down with a view to prescribing a uniform system of supply of clothing to peons and their petty officers in the Presidency proper. Subject to the provisions of Rule 90 of the Manual (regarding temporary peons) they are applicable to permanent persons in inferior service of Government who are paid from establishment charges. Menials whose pay is drawn on contingent bills are not ordinarily entitled to clothing except under general or special sanction of Government or competent authority. They do not apply to the peons of the High Court :—

(1) The Superintendent, Government Printing and Stationery, should be held responsible for the supply of woollen and cotton cloth and all accessories for the clothing of peons and their petty officers on the following basis :—

Under the orders contained in Rule 87 of the Manual of contingent expenditure, some officers presented their indents to the Superintendent, Government Printing and Stationery, for clothing required for their inferior servants who are paid from establishment charges. The inferior servants paid for from such sources include farashis, chowkidars, hamals, tapalis, etc., and the indenting officers contended that such servants were entitled to a free supply of clothing from the stationery department. Paragraph 1 of the Rule 87 of the Manual restricts the supply of clothing by the Superintendent, Government Printing and Stationery, to peons and their petty officers only and that clothing to other inferior servants of the class referred to cannot be supplied by the stationery office, except under special orders of Government."

Further, in Political and Services Department, Memorandum No. H. D. 4501/4-A, dated 24th July 1941, Government have stated that the question of the supply of clothing to inferior servants of Government other than peons and their petty officers is at present under the consideration and have directed that clothing may be supplied to those Farashis to whom it was supplied so far, pending orders on the general question referred to above.

167. Supply of clothing to Watchmen on the Establishments of District Judges.—Government have also sanctioned pending the issue of general orders about the supply of clothing to inferior servants other than peons, the supply of clothing to "watchmen" on the Judicial establishments of all District Judges in the Bombay Province, who were formerly designated as peons. The clothing should be allowed on the same footing as that of the peons on those establishments (Government, Home Department letter No. 6691/2-19143-B, dated 19th February 1942, to the Superintendent, Government Printing and Stationery, Bombay).

168. Arrangement for stitching of suits.—Heads of Departments or offices shall provide in their contract or contingent grants for the cost of tailoring charges only, since cost on the purchase of cloth, etc., will not be incurred by them. It is considered by Government both economical and convenient to entrust the tailoring of the uniforms of peons and petty officers serving in the offices in the City of Bombay exclusively to a firm of tailors to be selected by Government. The Superintendent, Government Printing and Stationery, Bombay, shall invite every year at the close of the financial year, well established firms of tailors to quote rates for cutting and stitching (a) woollen coats for amaldars, (b) woollen coats for peons and (c) cotton suits of white drill, and submit them to Government with his recommendations. Government shall then consider and decide the contracts on their own merits and shall notify the name of the approved firm and the rate per uniform sanctioned by them. Heads of offices in Bombay City and such heads of offices in the mofussil as may desire to avail themselves of this facility on grounds of economy and convenience, should arrange in consultation with the Superintendent, Government Printing and Stationery, Bombay, for the tailoring of the uniforms of their peons and petty officers by the tailoring firm selected by Government (Government Resolution, Finance Department, No. 393, dated 9th September 1930).

169. To facilitate a correct procedure for cutting and stitching the uniforms it has been arranged that the selected firm shall print and maintain measurement forms. These forms will be supplied by the firm on requisition when required by officers. The indenting officers should fill in the necessary details and send the form or forms along with their indent to the stationery office. As soon as the supply of the cloth indented for and passed by the stationery office is ready, the tailoring
